

Demystifying Shipping: A SATT Business/Consumer Education Series:

NB: As discussed with the Anthony Wilson of the Guardian – and as you will all no doubt agree, it is necessary that the first series of articles paint a broad picture and then the focus begins to narrow on more specific issues (customs, labour, freight rates/bunker, fuel prices & shipping

Teams are free to modify the article titles provided the central theme is maintained and subject to the approval of the editorial committee. The idea is to ensure the articles are both insightful and interesting.
